DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, an axle a cylinder, discs and a controller, classified in class 172, subclass 317.
  - II. Claims 10-14, drawn to a method for dividing soil, classified in class 172, subclass 1.
  - III. Claims 15-20, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, discs, a pillar, a column and plates, classified in class 172, subclass 310.
  - IV. Claims 21, 26 and 30, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, an axle, a cylinder, discs, a controller, a pillar, a column and plates, classified in class 172, subclass 317.
  - V. Claims 22 and 31, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, an axle, a cylinder, discs, a controller and a hitch, classified in class 172, subclass 677.
  - VI. Claims 23 and 27, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, discs, a cylinder, a pillar and a column, classified in class 172, subclass 317.
  - VII. Claims 24 and 28, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, discs, a pillar, and a front cylinder, classified in class 172, subclass 318.
  - VIII. Claims 25 and 29, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, discs, a pillar a column and a hitch, classified in class 172, subclass 677.
  - IX. Claims 32-34 and 38-40, drawn to an apparatus for separating soil including a frame, an axle, a cylinder, discs, a controller, a pillar and a column, classified in class 172, subclass 317.

2. Invention II and inventions (I and III-IX) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method could be practiced by another and materially different apparatus. The method of invention II requires only a frame, axle, cylinder and controller. All of the apparatus inventions have more elements than what is put forth in the method claim, therefor the method could be practiced by another and materially different apparatus.

3. Inventions I and III-IX are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the various inventions all contain different particulars not required by all of the other inventions. Some of the particulars include, the pillar, the column, the hitch, the front cylinder, and the controller. All of these particulars have separate utility but are not required for the main combination.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
